Madrid, Sept. 24. N. S.

THE King of Spain continues in very good Health, and went from hence this day with the Queen and the whole Court to the Escurial, where their Majesties intend to stay about 6 weeks The Countess of Berlips is gone thither with the Court, and it's said, her Journey to Germany is put off for some time. The Cardinal de Cordoua died here this week, after a few days Sickness, in the 46th year of his Age, and his Place of Inquisitor-General of Spain is given to Don Balthazar Mendoça Bishop of Segovia. The King has given the Order of the Golden Fleece to the Count of Staremberg, one of the Great Officers of the Emperor's Court. The Duke de St. Juan is made Vice-Roy of Sardinia, and the Marquis de Villagarcia Vice Roy of Valencia. They write from Cadiz, that the Ships which are fitting out there, in order to be sent with a Supply of Men, Arms and Ammunition to Carthagena in the West-Indies, would be ready to sail in few days. The Count d'Useda is appointed to go to Rome with the Character of Ambassador from this Crown, and will begin his Journey thither in few days.

Venice, Septemb. 25. Signior Soranzo, Ambassador from this Republick to the Port, set sail on the 25th Instant for Constantinople. It's said, the Senate have sent Orders to Signior Cornaro, Captain-General of their Forces in the Levant, to send hither three Regiments of the Venetian Troops now in the Morea, which are to be quartered in the Dominions of this Republick in Italy; and that as soon as the Fortresses of Lepanto and Preveſa are demolished and evacuated by the Venetians, pursuant to the Treaty of Carlowitz, the Captain-General will come into the Gulph of Venice with part of the Venetian Fleet. A Merchant Ship, named the Providence, arrived here last Tuesday from Smyrna, the Commander of which says, That in his Voyage hither he met the Captain-General with part of the Venetian Fleet sailing towards Corigo. Our last Letters from Andrinople give an Account, that the Grand Signior being on his departure from thence for Constantinople, the Janizaries and Spahi's refused to attend him, demanding their Arrears and a certain Sum of Money, which it's customary for them to receive from the Grand Signior on his Accession to the Government, and which has not yet been given them by the present Sultan; So that the Grand Signior was obliged, before he could appease them, to cause part of their Arrears to be paid, and to promise that they should receive the rest, and the Bounty-money they desired, on their arrival at Constantinople; And that his Journey to Constantinople was put off for some days on this occasion. These Advices add, that the number of the Arabs near Babylon who are in Arms against the Turks was grown so considerable, that the Grand Signior's Forces not being able to encounter them in the open Field, had intrenched themselves under the Walls of Babylon; and that the Grand Signior having received an Account thereof, had resolved to send more Forces to their Assistance.

Warsaw, Sept. 21. The Senate of this Kingdom are frequently assembled, having under Consideration how to raise the Sums of Money that are necessary for satisfying what is due to the Elector of Brandenburgh, according to the Agreement lately made concerning the City of Elbing; For repairing the Fortifications of Camieniec, and providing it with Artillery and Ammunition; And for paying part of the Arrears due to the Armies of the Crown, and of Lithuania, before they go into Winter-Quarters. The Crown General is gone from hence to Russland, to be present at the Evacuation of Caminiec, (which the Bassa has promised to deliver up to the Polanders in few days,) and to give Orders about quartering the Forces that are at present encamped on that Frontier. The Cardinal Primate is gone to Radzicowsky, where he expects the King's Approbation of the Agreement lately concluded with the Resident of Brandenburgh, and it's said, that as soon as he has received it, a Treaty will be drawn up in due form, and signed by the Cardinal, and the other Ministers of this Court who were joined with him in this Negociation, and by the Elector of Brandenburgh's Resident; The coming of the other Deputies his Electoral Highness intended to send hither not being thought necessary, seeing this Matter is already fully adjusted Copenhagen, Octob. 3. The Count de Gulderlew having resigned his Place of Vice-Roy of Norway, the King has given it to Prince Charles of Denmark his Brother, and has appointed Monsieur Gabil, one of his Council, to act in that Kingdom as Deputy under his Highness, who will continue to reside at Court. We hear that the Swedes have fitted out 12 Men of War, 4 Frigats, and some other Vessels, which is thought are design'd to carry over some Forces to their Territories in Germany; The like Preparations are continued on this side, and 'tis said, the King has thoughts of taking into his Service some of the King of Poland's German Forces. The King has put off his Journey to Holstein till after the Funeral of the late King his Father, and his own Coronation. The young Count of Rovenlau is sent to Vienna with some Instructions relating to the Affair of Holstein, which gives hopes, that the Negociations now on foot for accommodating Matters between the King of Denmark and the Duke of Holstein, are drawing towards a good Conclusion. The Duke of Wirtemberg took yesterday a Review of the King's Regiment of Foot-Guards, consisting of 22 Companies, which he found in a very good Condition.

Vienna, Sept. 26. On the 24th Instant the Count of Donhoff, Envoy Extraordinary from the Elector of Brandenburgh, had a Publick Audience of the Emperor at Eberſdorf, and received from him, in the Name of the Elector his Master, the Investiture of the Fiefs which his Electoral Highness holds of his Imperial Majesty. Yesterday the Imperial Court came to this City; and this day Count Ottingen, Ambassador from the Emperour to the Port, had his Audiences of Leave of the Emperour and Empress, the King and Queen of the Romans, and the Arch Duke and Arch-Dutchess. He went to Court with the same Retinue and Equipage, as he designs to have when he makes his Entry into Constantinople; His Excellency's Led-Horses in rich Harness, led by his Grooms, marched in the Front; After them came 15 Pages, his Excellency's Master of the Horse, and other Servants, followed by his Trumpets and Kettle-Drums all on Horseback, his Hautboys on foot, and the 2 Troops of Horse and 3 Companies of Foot which are appointed to attend him in his Journey as his Guards as far as Salankemen, marched next; and after them came the Secretary of the Embassy and the Interpreter, the Count of Stuzendorf, and divers other Persons of Quality, who intend to accompany the Ambassador to Turky.
